BLACK DOVE'S SACRED HEART

TEQUILA REPOSADO & TEQUILA BLANCO

Available in 1L and
750mL formats

What makes our tequila different

Distilled from 100% blue agave in Jalisco, Mexico. We start by slow roasting our agave, before slow fermenting for 48–60 hours. It is then double distilled in copper pot stills and brought to proof with volcanic mineral rich water to give it a balance of simple complexity. We use the same ingredients and distillation process for our Tequila Reposado. What gives our Reposado Tequila its wonderful caramel color and bold flavors and aromas is the aging process of at least 3 months in American oak barrels, intensifying its agave flavor and toasted aroma.

What you can expect

Blanco Aroma: Lightly roasted agave and subtle smokiness.

Reposado Aroma: Hints of vanilla and roasted agave.

Blanco Taste: A complex and clean flavor that builds as it crosses the palate.

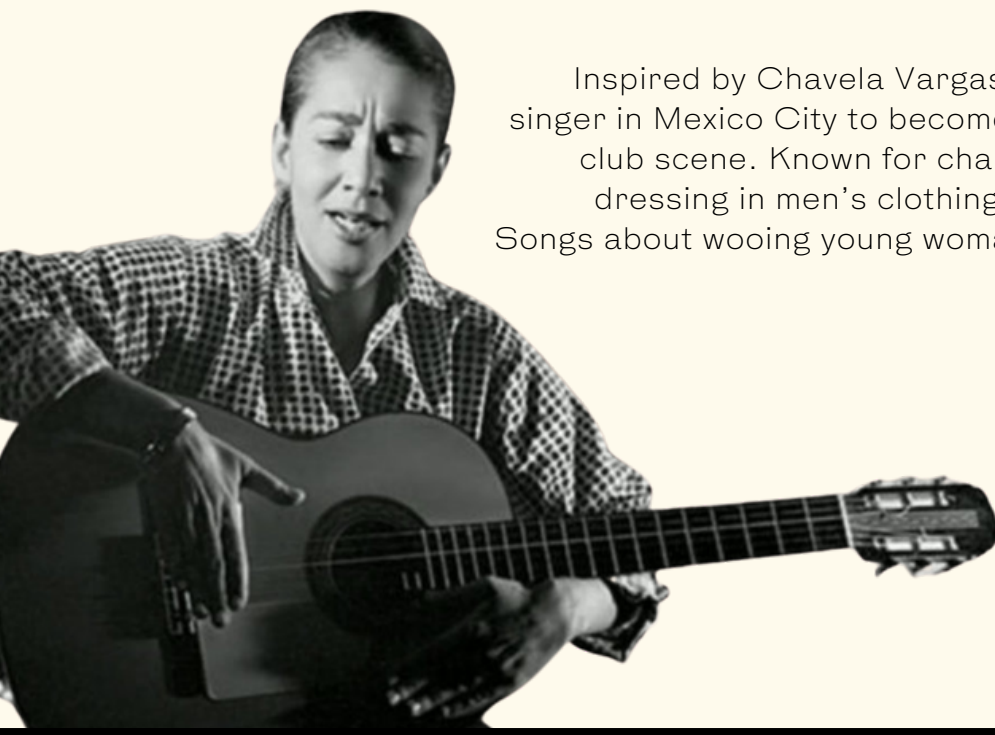

Reposado Taste: A subtle and earthy smoked flavor with a balance of vanilla, oak, and agave.

Blanco Finish: Ultra smooth, clean finish with hints of spices pleasantly lingering on the tongue.

Reposado Finish: Short and clean finish leaving hints of oak and spice on the palate.

THE STORY OF THE BLACK DOVE, LA PALOMA NEGRA

Inspired by Chavela Vargas, who started out as a homeless street singer in Mexico City to become darling of the city's thriving bohemian club scene. Known for challenging mainstream Mexican morals by dressing in men's clothing while she passionately sang Ranchero Songs about wooing young woman. This tequila drinking, cigar smoking, rabble rouser won the hearts of many, especially Frida Kahlo whom she nicknamed her Black Dove. The song Paloma Negra (Black Dove), became one of Chavela's most famous songs and was used in the sound track of Frida the movie. The song is a dramatized telling of a young woman who goes out partying all night and breaks the heart of the singer.

Each of us at Misguided Spirits is a partner in the company and focuses on providing support to the bars and restaurants that pull the communities we share together.
