

PROBITAS

WHITE BLENDED RUM

A style of rum that would have made your daiquiri in the 1930s...

Light white rums contributed to the explosion of popularity of cocktails like the Daiquiri in the post prohibition era. Unlike the white rums of today, which are often made from neutral or near neutral spirit, the white rums of the past had appreciable flavor.

For the first time in history, Probitas is a joint venture between Caribbean distilleries to produce a blended Rum.

Coming from two of the most iconic distilleries in two of the most respected islands in the Caribbean for Rum making - Foursquare Rum Distillery in Barbados, and Hampden Estate in Jamaica.

Distilled, matured, blended and bottled in the Caribbean. No sugar, flavor, color, nor neutral/multi column spirit added - bottled at 47% ABV (94 Proof).

Probitas brings a new gold standard to White Rum used for Cocktails.

Probitas is a blend of three distinct rums, blended by Master Blender Richard Seale of Foursquare in Barbados. The first time that a White Blended Rum has been made entirely in the Caribbean, from multiple islands and producers, with components selected by the rum makers themselves.

Components:

- Unaged Pot Still Rum from Hampden Estate in Jamaica, selected by Mr. Vivian Wisdom, Hampden's Master Distiller at the time of blending
- Unaged Coffey Still Rum from Foursquare Rum Distillery in Barbados, selected by Mr. Richard Seale
- 2 Year Aged Pot Still Rum from Foursquare Rum Distillery in Barbados, selected by Mr. Richard Seale

Tasting Notes:

Aroma: Ripe banana, pineapple and toasted coconut balanced with fresh custard and hints of vanilla. Hints of citrus and baking spices.

Palate: Full, complex, well textured throughout. Caramelized Pineapple, Guava, marzipan, coconut and more. Finishes clean with subtle sweet notes.

FOURSQUARE RUM DISTILLERY

Foursquare Rum Distillery is located on a former sugar plantation dating approximately back to 1720, within the tiny Caribbean island of Barbados. The distillery was re-opened by the Seale family in 1996, and distilling operations and blending are currently directed by Richard Seale, 4th Generation Blender & Distiller of R.L. Seale & Co.

Within the last decade, Foursquare has become recognized as one of the most awarded and sought after producers within the premium rum category. Their name synonymous with super premium rum, and alongside some of the most revered spirits in the world.

Foursquare has consistently been named Rum Producer of the Year, and most recently has taken home the titles of "Outstanding Spirits Producer" (IWSC 2021), "Master Blender of the Year" (ISC 2021), and "Supreme Champion Spirit" (ISC 2021) - beating out all other spirits and producers in all spirits categories, not just Rum - occurring in two of the longest standing, and most reputable global spirits competitions.

"To drink Foursquare Rum, one must only possess a dream of tasting some of the finest things that money can buy"
